Dear all,

Apologies for being slow to reply. The document had been posted but there was apparently a technical problem which meant that the reviewer's comments didn't show. I see this has now been sorted and you can read the reviewer's comments here.

Dear Rory

I expect the referee's reports will be posted (if they haven't already been) because Fiona has committed (in her message of 25 June) to publishing not only the Panel's report, but also "all supporting documentation". As you suggest, the referees' reports are clearly an important element of the investigation into what happened.

Best wishes, Iain
