

The Richard Doll Seminars in Public Health and Epidemiology

Nuffield Department of Population Health, University of Oxford

Michaelmas (Oct to Nov) 2016 at 1-2pm
Lecture Theatre, Richard Doll Building, Old Road Campus

-
-
- 11th Oct Professor Wendy Atkin
Department of Surgery and Cancer, Imperial College London
Preventing Colorectal Cancer by Screening
- 18th Oct Professor Sasha Shepperd
Nuffield Department of Population Health, University of Oxford
The Design and Implementation of a multi-site Randomised Controlled Trial of Geriatrician-Led Acute Care in the Home: recruiting the first 500 participants
- 25th Oct Professor Cyrus Cooper
MRC Lifecourse Epidemiology Unit, University of Southampton, and Nuffield Department of Orthopaedics, Rheumatology and Musculoskeletal Sciences, University of Oxford
Prevention of osteoporotic fracture throughout the lifecourse
- 1st Nov Professor Paul Roderick
Primary Care and Population Sciences, University of Southampton
Kidney disease: an emerging public health problem?
- 8th Nov Professor Alan Silman
Nuffield Department of Orthopaedics, Rheumatology and Musculoskeletal Sciences, University of Oxford
Challenges and opportunities for research in the field of comorbidity
- 15th Nov Professor Denise Lievesley
Principal, Green Templeton College, University of Oxford
Data Liberation – making data available for research purposes
- 22nd Nov Professor Miguel Angel Martinez-Gonzalez
Preventive Medicine and Public Health, University of Navarra
The Mediterranean diet in cardiovascular prevention: PREDIMED and PREDIMED-PLUS trials
- 29th Nov Professor Nick Sheron
Department of Medicine (Hepatology), University of Southampton
Dionysis, Dinosaurs and the Politics of Alcohol
-
-

All welcome

Conveners: Sarah Floud and David Preiss

Email: rdseminars@ctsu.ox.ac.uk; Web: www.ndph.ox.ac.uk/rdseminars Twitter: twitter.com/rdseminars