

The Richard Doll Seminars in Public Health and Epidemiology
Nuffield Department of Population Health, University of Oxford

Michaelmas Term (October to November) 2018 at 1-2pm
Lecture Theatre, Richard Doll Building, Old Road Campus

- 9th Oct Emeritus Professor Hilary J Powers
University of Sheffield
Diet, nutrition, physical activity and cancer: the current state of the evidence (and how to use it)
- 16th Oct Professor Julian Peto
London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine
Cervical cancer, occult CIN3 and HPV screening
- 19th Oct Dr Timothy Palmer
University of Edinburgh
Cervical Screening in a post-HPV immunisation world
- 23rd Oct Professor Sir Charles Godfray FRS
University of Oxford
Livestock, Health, Environment & People
- 30th Oct Professor Hugh Markus
University of Cambridge
The genetics of stroke
- 6th Nov Dr Rebecca Sears
London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine
Evolutionary approaches to public health, or why do health inequalities exist?
- 20th Nov Dr Mireille Toledano
Imperial College London
The SCAMP adolescent cohort study: lessons for the design, set-up and follow-up of adolescent cohort studies in the digital era and some preliminary findings
- 27th Nov Professor Brian Ference
University of Cambridge
Using naturally randomized genetic evidence to inform the design of randomized trials
- 29th Nov Professor William Tarnow-Mordi
University of Sydney
Can we transform perinatal care through larger, more efficient, collectively prioritised international trials?
-

All welcome

Conveners: Julie Schmidt and David Preiss

Email: rdseminars@ndph.ox.ac.uk Web: www.ndph.ox.ac.uk/upcoming-events Twitter: twitter.com/rdseminars