

The Richard Doll Seminars in Public Health and Epidemiology

Nuffield Department of Population Health, University of Oxford

Hilary Term (January to March) 2019 at 1-2pm
Lecture Theatre, Richard Doll Building, Old Road Campus

-
-
- | | |
|------------------------|---|
| 15 th Jan | Dr Tyler Seibert
University of California San Diego
A genetic risk score to guide personalized, age-specific prostate cancer screening |
| 22 nd Jan | Professor Alan Dangour
London School of Health and Tropical Medicine
Sustainable and Healthy Food Systems: now and in the future |
| 29 th Jan | Professor Judith Bliss
Institute of Cancer Research
Incorporating biomarkers into breast cancer trials – where are we at? |
| 5 th Feb | Professor Peter Burney
Imperial College London
Controversial Topics in the Epidemiology of Chronic Lung Disease |
| 12 th Feb | Professor Mika Kivimaki
University College London
Prevention of dementia by targeting risk factors |
| 19 th Feb | Professor Kate Hunt
University of Stirling
Social determinants of health, health behaviours and health inequalities |
| 26 th Feb | Professor David Dodwell
University of Oxford
Progress in the management of breast cancer: trials & tribulations |
| 5 th March | Professor Richard Cookson
University of York
Life course economic evaluation of early years' policy and its impacts on health inequality |
| 14 th March | Associate Professor Daniel Barnett
Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health
Examining Public Health Workers' Perceptions Toward Response Expectations in Disasters |
-
-

All welcome

Conveners: Julie Schmidt, Louisa Gnatiuc and David Preiss

Email: rdseminars@ndph.ox.ac.uk; Web: www.ndph.ox.ac.uk/upcoming-events Twitter: twitter.com/rdseminars